8. The Draft Ordinance on state aid to improve the continuity of supply in the electricity system concerns investment aid in the form of a contribution to measures consisting of

1. the conversion of a heating plant into a bioenergy heating plant;

2. investments in a new bioenergy heating plant or in upgraded production capability in an existing plant of this kind;
3. investments in a new renewably fuelled gas turbine or in upgraded production capability in an existing installation of this kind;
4. investments in the storage of electricity or heat, where the storage facility is directly connected to an installation for the production of renewable electricity; or
5. upgraded production capability in a small-scale hydroelectric installation.

9. The Draft Ordinance provides that the Swedish Energy Agency may grant state aid to companies for certain measures aimed at improving the continuity of supply in the electricity system.
